

GENERAL ELECTION REPORT

2025

Report of the Chief Electoral Officer on the 52nd Provincial General Election

Part I: Statement of Votes and Statistics

October 14, 2025

August 14, 2026

The Honourable Paul Lane
Speaker of the House of Assembly
First Floor, East Block
Confederaton Building
St. John's, NL A1B 4J6

Honourable Speaker:

In accordance with Section 214 of the Elections Act, 1991, I am pleased to submit my report on Newfoundland and Labrador's 52nd General Election, the 23rd since Confederation, held on October 14, 2025.

This statistical report includes an overview of the election, lists of election officials, candidates, elected MHAs, and electoral boundaries, as well as poll by poll results by electoral district.

A Report on the Recommendations for Electoral Modernization and the Election Finance Report respecting candidates' expenditures for the 2025 General Election and a Recommendations Report will be tabled under separate covers.

Sincerely yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Travis Wooley', with a stylized flourish at the end.

Travis Wooley
Chief Electoral Officer (Acting)

The October 14, 2025 General Election marks a welcome return to in-person voting, the first since the 2021 general election during COVID where in-person voting was suspended. As an organization, Elections NL was singularly focused on delivering a trusted result to electors, candidates, all electoral participants, and the public.

Elections Newfoundland and Labrador prepared to meet the demands of this significant electoral event and successfully delivered an election that upheld the principles of transparency, integrity, accessibility, and impartiality. Throughout the election period, we ensured that every eligible voter could participate in the democratic process through convenient, secure, and reliable voting services. The successful administration of this election is a testament to the dedication and professionalism of Elections NL staff, election officials, and returning office personnel. Their commitment, flexibility, and willingness to work long hours under demanding circumstances ensured electors received the high standard of service they expect and deserve. I extend my sincere appreciation to all who contributed to the successful delivery of this election.

The 2025 General Election demonstrated the value of strategic planning, effective contingency measures, and the continued use of technology. These tools and processes enabled Elections NL to respond quickly and effectively to challenges as they arose, while maintaining confidence in the electoral process and minimizing disruptions to service. This report demonstrates how Elections NL prepared for, and navigated challenges that were faced in the 2025 general election. Through careful preparation, innovation, and the dedication of our staff, we continue to fulfill our mandate of providing Newfoundland and Labrador electors with trusted elections that uphold the democratic principles of transparency, integrity, accessibility, and impartiality.

Lastly, I would like to thank the electors of Newfoundland and Labrador for participating in this election. It has been an honour to serve you as Chief Electoral Officer and I am humbled by the responsibility of ensuring that Newfoundland and Labrador's democratic process is trusted, accessible, free, and fair. As we look forward to our next general election, our commitment to you is we will continue to enhance the services that this office provides to electoral participants, and we will continue to innovate to meet the expectations of a modern electoral process.

Thank you for reading,

Travis Wooley, Chief Electoral Officer (Acting)

INTRODUCTION

Elections Newfoundland and Labrador (Elections NL), also referred to as the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer (OCEO), is an independent, non-partisan office of the House of Assembly, responsible for the administration of provincial elections, by-elections, referendums, and plebiscites.

Elections NL exercises general direction and supervision over the administrative conduct of elections and for enforcing fairness, impartiality and compliance with the Elections Act, 1991.

The Report of the Chief Electoral Officer on the proceedings of the 52nd Provincial General Election, held on October 14, 2025, is published in three volumes. This first volume presents statistical information related to the election, along with pre-election planning, key activities during the election, notable highlights, and the response to challenges encountered during electoral operations.

Subsequent volumes of this report will address separate topics not covered as part of the statistical report. Volume II will be a report on electoral modernization with recommendations arising from the administration of the October 14, 2025 general election, as well as recommendations taken from the report "Newfoundland and Labrador's Electoral Process: Recommendations for Modernization," that was delivered to the All Party Committee to Modernize the Elections Act. Volume III will report on the political financing and disclosure of candidates and parties from the October 14, 2025 general election.

POLLING STATION

ELECTION SUMMARY

Elections NL must be ready to deliver an election or by-election at any time. Ongoing readiness activities, election supply purchases, robust contingency planning, ready technology, and regular engagement with election suppliers and election officials are key to responding to external factors that could trigger an election.

To support election readiness requirements, Elections NL moved to a newly designed headquarters at the former Target building on Stavanger Drive in St. John's in the fall of 2023. This new headquarters included warehouse space to store, prepare, and maintain enough election equipment, materials, and supplies for a general election as well as critical election materials for contingencies. This new warehouse space allows for assembly and staging of over 2,000 ballot boxes, and approximately 100 pallets of election supplies ensuring critical election materials can be deployed quickly in the event of an early election.

Speculation that the 52nd Newfoundland and Labrador General Election would be called early started in the fall 2023. Various news organizations began reporting on increased signals that an election was on the horizon, with the former Premier not ruling out an election later that year.

In early 2024, there were multiple vacancies in the House of Assembly, creating the possibility that a full general election could be held in lieu of holding by-elections. Instead, the by-elections took place in the four vacant electoral districts; Conception Bay East – Bell Island (January 30, 2024), Fogo Island – Cape Freels (April 15, 2024), Baie Verte – Green Bay (May 27, 2024), and Waterford Valley (August 22, 2024).

On January 6, 2025, Prime Minister Justin Trudeau announced his resignation, proroguing parliament until March 24, 2025. There was significant speculation that a provincial general election would occur before that date.

However, on February 25, 2025, the Honourable Andrew Furey announced his resignation from the role of Premier, with his successor to be named on May 3, 2025, following a leadership contest.

In the meantime, a federal general election was held between March 23, 2025, and April 28, 2025. Mark Carney, leader of the Liberal Party of Canada, was elected as the 24th Prime Minister of Canada.

On May 3, 2025, the Liberal Party of Newfoundland and Labrador announced that John Hogan, MHA for Windsor Lake was the successful candidate of the leadership campaign. The Honourable John Hogan was sworn in as Newfoundland and Labrador's 15th premier at Government House in St. John's on May 9, 2025.

Throughout this timeline Elections NL maintained a high level of readiness in the event that a general election was triggered from any of the events and speculation above. During this period of heightened readiness staffing is increased at headquarters, key election officials are kept in place throughout the electoral districts, election materials, supplies, and equipment are packaged and ready for deployment, and election suppliers are engaged and ready to support at a moment's notice. In addition, election officials actively monitor their districts to identify offices and polling locations, and ongoing training sessions are held to keep staff election ready for when the writ is dropped.

In accordance with the fixed date legislation outlined in the House of Assembly Act, on September 15, 2025, Premier John Hogan requested Lieutenant Governor Joan Marie Aylward dissolve the 50th General Assembly and issue a proclamation pursuant to Order in Council Number 107/25.

Chief Electoral Officer of Newfoundland and Labrador, Mr. Travis Wooley, issued election writs to all 40 district Returning Offices on September 15, 2025.

The 2025 General Election date was set for October 14, 2025, the first general election held on the October fixed date, per legislation, since 2011.

ELECTION PREPAREDNESS

The 2021 General Election went ahead despite challenges resulting from the global COVID-19 pandemic. After this election, robust contingency planning took place, considering weather events, service disruptions, and many other possible scenarios that would interfere with an election.

In April 2021, an All-Party Committee was established to modernize the Elections Act, 1991. A series of recommendations were made in an Elections NL report, titled "Newfoundland and Labrador's Electoral Process: Recommendations for Modernization." This report presented the committee with 24 recommendations to better serve electors, ranging from modernizing the Act itself, using plain language, and changes for early voting, election day, and post-event reporting. Each suggestion considered legislation from other provincial, municipal and federal acts as guidelines.

Ultimately, the committee dissolved, and no changes were made prior to the 2025 General Election. The recommendations made will be brought forward, along with additional recommendations, in volume II of the 2025 Provincial General Election Report.

While the 2025 General Election was welcomed as a return to normal practices following the 2021 general election, a number of operational challenges occurred, requiring contingency plans to be deployed.

In August 2025, multiple fires in Conception Bay North destroyed over 200 structures, resulting in electors being displaced from their homes. A nationwide Canada Post strike began on September 25, 2025. Elections NL leveraged the experience of other jurisdictions in the planning and contingency rollout for these events, focusing on additional services for impacted electors.

In advance of the election, Returning Officers began to set up offices. In Lewisporte-Twillingate, a returning office was established, only to be destroyed by fire. Robust planning at headquarters meant replacement supplies and technology could be delivered to the district as soon as a new office location was found.

On polling day, power outages in the Lewisporte-Twillingate electoral district affected several polling locations. Electoral services were not disrupted, and emergency lighting, equipment, and supplies were enroute to the polling locations when power was restored to the area.

Elections NL continues to develop emergency plans for electoral disruptions caused by natural disasters, technology failures, public health emergencies, and other unforeseen circumstances based on feedback from Returning Officers and events in other provinces.

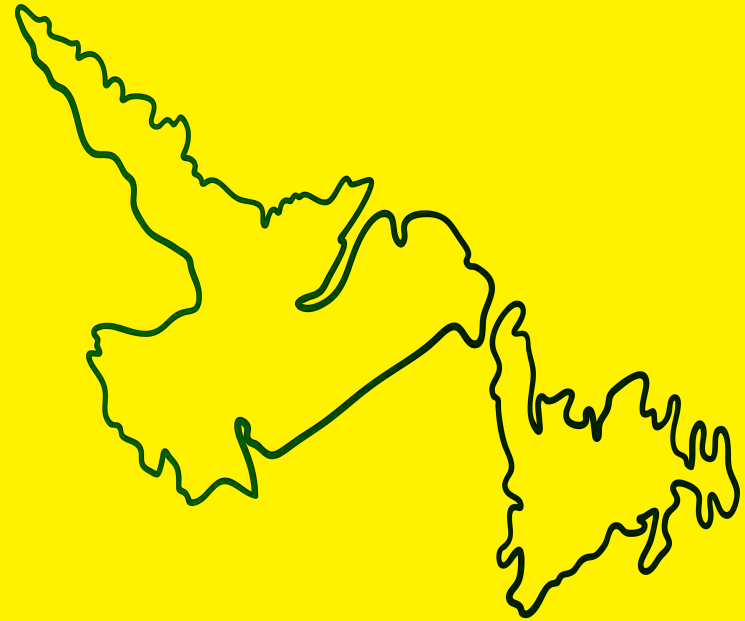

USING TECHNOLOGY

The Elections Act, 1991, is written using very prescribed language from a time prior to ubiquitous internet usage. How Elections NL delivers electoral services must follow the Act, and administrative changes must remain within the limits of legislation. Implementation of technology must ensure that legislative requirements can be met, and that procedural integrity can be maintained.

For the 2025 General Election, new technologies were used to enhance the delivery of service to electors, to make election operations more robust, and maintain the integrity of the election process throughout.

A new election management system, VoterView, allowed Elections NL to provide integrated and connected electoral services. Each electoral office operating throughout the province had access to this system and could offer the same services and information available at Elections NL Headquarters. In addition, the election management system was able to streamline high volume tasks and allowed Elections NL to offer more early voting opportunities for electors than in previous elections. Electors had the opportunity to vote by Special Ballot at any of the 77 election offices operating throughout the province, and Advance voting locations were increased by over 33%, with 186 locations on October 7, 2025.

This new election management system also allowed electors to engage online with Elections NL for services including registration, Special Ballot applications, and a 'Where Do I Vote' tool that was widely used throughout the election to help electors find their polling stations.

Technology was also used as part of Elections NL contingency and emergency response to operational challenges during the election. The election management system was instrumental in responding to the challenges and issues for vote-by-mail services arising from the Canada Post strike. Electors that had voting kits in the mail were identified immediately and given alternative voting options, while procedures were modified to provide election offices the ability to respond to the influx of in-person Special Ballot voting at all locations.

In response to the devastating fires in Conception Bay North, and the displaced electors from that region, Elections NL utilized technology to provide various services to respond to the specific needs of electors in the affected communities. Particularly, on polling day, electors from affected communities could vote at multiple designated polling stations located throughout the electoral district, as well as at Elections NL headquarters. These polls were supported by technology to ensure that displaced electors could avail of voting services where they were located while ensuring that only one vote was cast per elector, thus ensuring the integrity of voting was maintained.

Technology was also used to extend the amount of time an elector could return their Special Ballot voting kit to Elections NL offices. Electoral offices in Labrador and the Northern Peninsula used technology to conduct a Remote Special Ballot count of ballots onsite instead of at the central count at Elections NL Headquarters. These Remote Special Ballot counts allowed an extended Special Ballot voting period for all electors and mitigated the risk of weather-related delays and disruptions caused by the Canada Post strike, while still maintaining the integrity of the Special Ballot vote count.

As part of our election preparations and readiness, Elections NL engaged in extensive consultation with provincial and federal cybersecurity experts. Infrastructure, training, and ongoing monitoring from multiple levels of cybersecurity protection allowed the new electoral technology to be integrated securely and successfully throughout the organization for the 2025 General Election.

COMMUNICATIONS

Electors are increasingly accessing online sources for voting information. Elections NL designed a communication plan to inform electors about the proper sources for voting information, along with dedicated election communications throughout the election. Contingency measures were in place in the event online misinformation and disinformation was identified. Prior to the 2025 General Election being called, Elections NL began sharing content to serve as the single source of truth around provincial elections in Newfoundland and Labrador. Social media content was posted regularly on Facebook and Instagram, linking users to the Elections NL webpage and content.

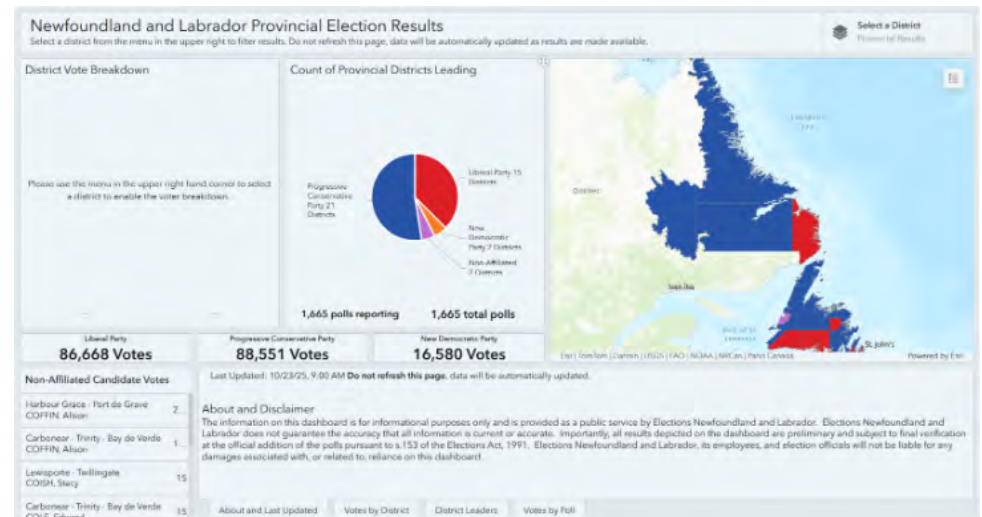

Media was engaged to ensure the accuracy of election information sharing, and that open communication channels existed between Elections NL and local media outlets. Local media was invited to Elections NL headquarters to meet with the Chief Elections Officer and Communications Officer. During these visits, a full tour of facilities was provided, along with an election update and a question and answer period.

Elections NL also increased service delivery through website and call centre channels. Frequently asked questions were developed to address elector needs around a variety of topics, and adjusted as needed. Website and social media platforms contained information about how to vote, office hours and locations, and more. A social media campaign shared date sensitive and informational posts on Facebook and Instagram.

Print, radio and television ads appeared throughout the province to inform electors about voting and where to find official election information. Over the election period, 13 news releases were issued.

On polling day, the election management system provided real-time results through an interactive dashboard tool. This tool was used by national media in their election reporting.

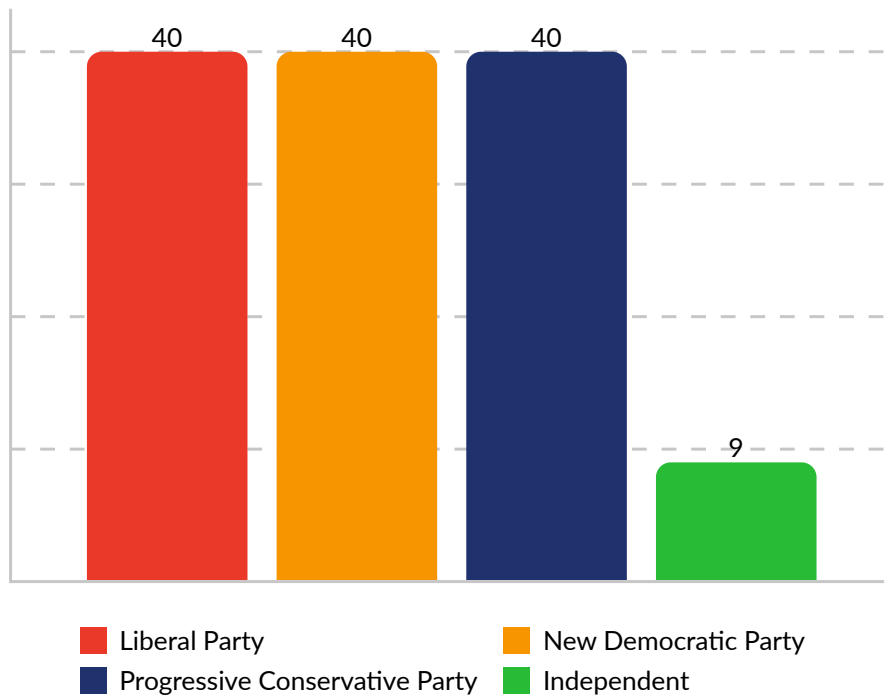

THE VOTE

Upon dissolution, the House of Assembly had 19 Liberal Members, 14 Progressive Conservative Members, one New Democratic Party member, two non-affiliated Members, and four vacancies.

A total of 129 candidates were nominated in the 2025 General Election: 40 from each of the Liberal Party, New Democratic Party, Progressive Conservative Party and nine independent or non-affiliated candidates.

The election resulted in 21 Progressive Conservative Party, 15 Liberal Party, 2 New Democratic Party and 2 non-affiliated Members being returned to the House of Assembly.

Three applications for a judicial recount were made following the election in the districts of Topsail – Paradise, Lewisporte – Twillingate, and Placentia West – Bellevue.

Premier Tony Wakeham and all Members from non-contested districts were sworn in on October 29, 2025. MHAs Jeffery Dwyer and Mark Butt were sworn in on November 18, 2025, and Paul Dinn was sworn in on November 25, 2025, following the judicial recount proceedings.

CANDIDATES AND DISTRIBUTION OF VOTES

At the start of the provincial general election there were three registered parties in the province: the Liberal Party, the New Democratic Party and the Progressive Conservative Party. Following the close of nominations there were 129 candidates registered for the election: 40 Liberal candidates, 40 New Democratic candidates, 40 Progressive Conservative candidates and 9 independent or non-affiliated candidates. A complete list of candidates are included (Appendix B).

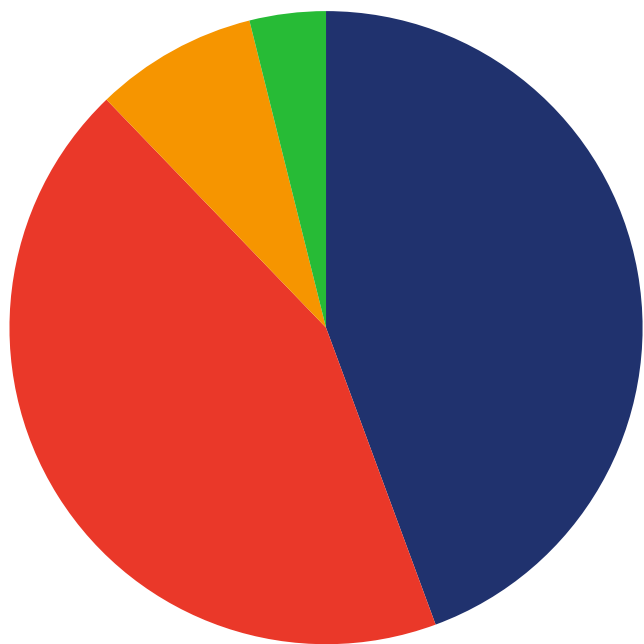

Alison Coffin was registered as a non-affiliated candidate in two electoral districts: Carbonear – Trinity – Bay de Verde and Harbour Grace – Port de Grave. The Elections Act, 1991 does not prohibit a candidate from running in multiple electoral districts in a general election. There have been several elections in Newfoundland and Labrador where a candidate has run in more than one electoral district. The most recent was in the 1870 general election.

NEW INITIATIVES

ELECTION MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

Adapted with great success during the four by-elections in 2024, Elections NL used VoterView as the election management system to administer the 2025 general election.

VoterView is an online, web-based platform that manages electoral services and voting data during an election. VoterView simplified the management of elector data and streamlined administrative electoral activities, primarily around updating and managing the voters list and voting activity through an election.

VoterView allowed Elections NL access to comprehensive election reporting and functions to streamline our processes and prioritize the allocation of resources to better serve electors in a timely and more efficient manner.

VoterView modernized administrative processes and digitized numerous forms, significantly reducing paper-based forms and allowing for the introduction of electronic workflows.

The VoterView dashboard oversees all aspects of the election event, including locations and polls, advance vote strike-off, and results reporting, enabling Elections NL to identify, anticipate and respond in a timely manner to issues, assuring the seamless delivery of services to electors. The new election management system also allowed for an interactive results dashboard, which displayed election results in real time, following the close of polls at 8:00 pm on October 14, 2025.

FULL-SERVICE ELECTION OFFICES

For the 2025 General Election, the electoral services offered at Returning Offices, Remote Offices, and Satellite Offices increased. For the first time, electoral offices had access to an interconnected election management system to administer electoral services and provide information to electors.

With access to real-time information, election officials could provide in-person registration services to electors, update elector information on the Voter's List, provide polling location information to electors, as well as administer Special Ballot voting.

The integration of VoterView as Election NL's election management system for the 2025 General Election added significant value and services to electors, candidates, and other electoral stakeholders.

During the Canada Post labour disruption, these electoral offices became hubs for delivering Special Ballot voting kits to electors, as well as receiving completed voting kits for eventual transmittal to Elections NL headquarters.

With 77 offices operating throughout the province during the election, this increased presence of office locations ensured electors had access to in-person electoral services and was instrumental in the seamless response to the mail service disruption.

VIRTUAL SPECIAL BALLOT COUNT

In response to the Canada Post strike and suspension of mail services, Elections NL expanded Special Ballot voting hours and extended the deadline for the return of all Special Ballot kits to District Offices, providing electors with additional time to vote early by Special Ballot.

While this extension supported voter access, it created logistical challenges in returning Special Ballot kits from remote regions to headquarters in time for a centralized count of these ballots. To mitigate this challenge, Elections NL leveraged technology to conduct a virtual count using video conferencing technology to observe and scrutinize the count at the local Returning Office from Elections NL Headquarters. Special ballots from the four Labrador districts and the district of St. Barbe – L'Anse aux Meadows were counted locally at the district level using technology to observe the count remotely.

This technology based approach enabled the Special Ballot voting window to be extended for all electors, eliminating the need to charter an aircraft to retrieve ballots ahead of the count, resulting in significant reduction of risk due to weather or other logistical issues. District staff received training on Special Ballot counting procedures and conducted the counts under observation by Elections NL headquarters staff via live video. Scrutineers were also accommodated and were able to observe the counting process either in person at the district offices or remotely from Elections NL headquarters.

Feedback on the expanded early voting hours, extended Special Ballot deadline, and the use of a virtual counting process was overwhelmingly positive from district staff, scrutineers, and electoral stakeholders. District staff reported that the procedures were clear, well-supported through training, and workable within local offices, even in remote regions. The ability for scrutineers to observe the count either in person or virtually was particularly well received, as it maintained transparency and confidence in the integrity of the process while still offering the flexibility to extend Special Ballot deadlines.

Overall, the process proved to be effective in addressing logistical challenges without compromising security, accuracy, or integrity. The successful use of technology to facilitate remote observation and decentralized counting demonstrates Elections NL's capacity to adapt to unforeseen circumstances while maintaining consistent standards across districts. Counts were completed efficiently, and communication between district offices and headquarters remained timely and reliable throughout the process.

Importantly, this approach established a viable model for supporting longer voting periods in future elections. By reducing reliance on strict transportation timelines and centralized counting, Elections NL can offer electors extended voting windows, particularly for Special Ballots (without increasing operational risk or integrity of the process). The experience confirmed that extended voting periods, combined with virtual oversight and local counting, can enhance accessibility for electors while sustaining effective election administration.

STUDENT VOTE

Student Vote is a national civic education initiative delivered by CIVIX that provides students with a hands-on voting experience held in parallel with a general election. For the 2025 provincial election, CIVIX partnered with Elections NL to implement Student Vote throughout the province, giving students the opportunity to learn about government, research parties and candidates, engage in political discussion, and cast a ballot in a simulated election environment.

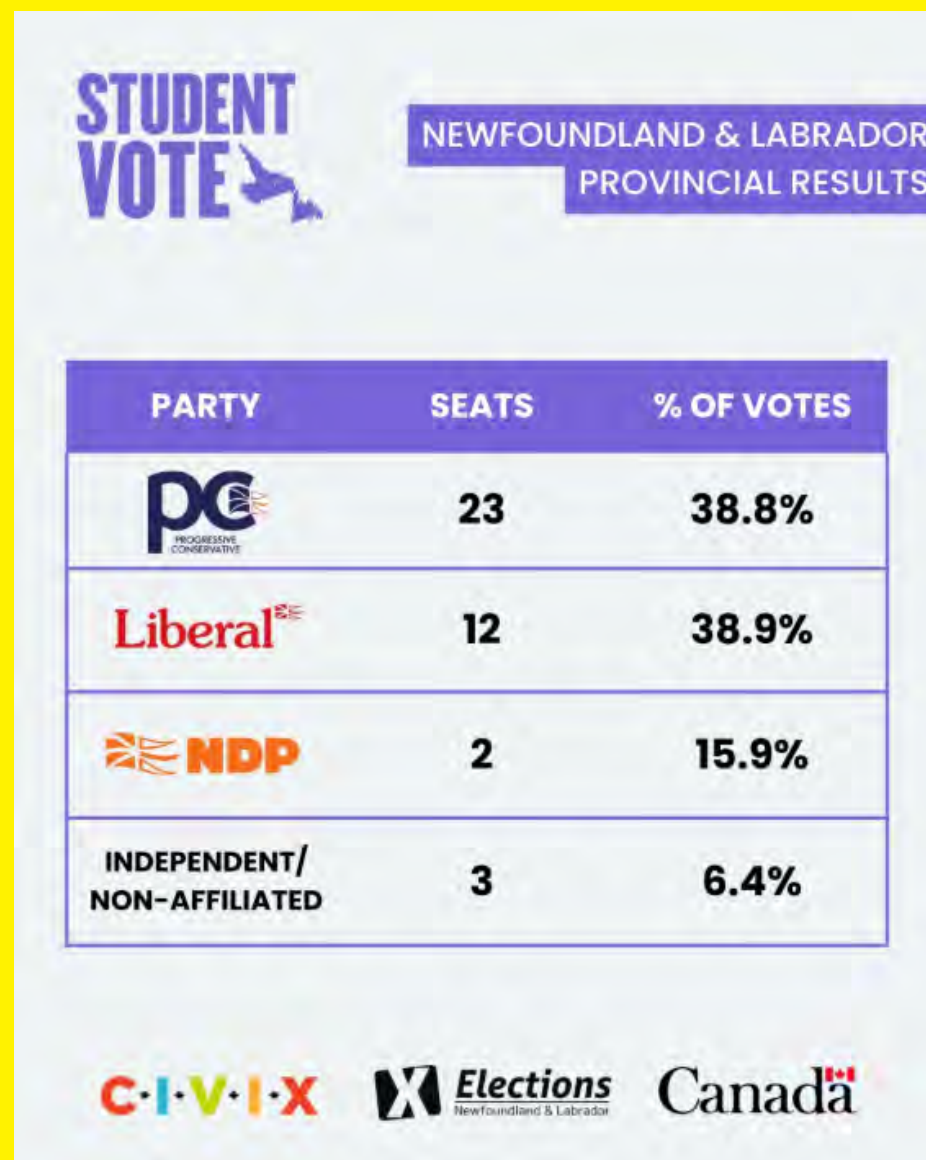

Participation in Student Vote Newfoundland and Labrador 2025 was strong. A total of 148 schools registered, representing approximately 50% of all targeted schools in the province. Of those, 123 schools (83%) reported their simulated election results, with 16,819 students casting ballots with representation from each of the 40 electoral districts. Participation was particularly high among intermediate and high schools, and at least 349 teachers were directly involved in delivering the program, often engaging additional colleagues within their schools.

Schools received comprehensive print and digital educational resources, including lesson plans, election manuals, ballots, posters, and access to online tools such as explainer videos, slide decks, and party leader Q&A videos. These resources were consistently rated as excellent or good by educators, who described them as well-organized, engaging, and easy to use. Despite distribution challenges caused by the Canada Post strike, Elections NL provided logistical support that was critical to the successful delivery of Student Vote materials throughout the province.

Post-event evaluation results show the program had a strong and positive impact on students. According to educator surveys,

- 98% reported increased student knowledge of government and the electoral process;
- 95% observed a strengthened sense of civic responsibility;
- 98% noted increased student interest in politics and public policy;
- 95% indicated students were more likely to discuss political topics with family and friends;
- 95% believed the program increased students' intention to vote in future elections; and
- 98% of respondents reporting improved knowledge of politics and greater confidence in teaching civic education.

All respondents indicated increased motivation to teach citizenship and democracy, and 94% said they would participate again in future Student Vote initiatives.

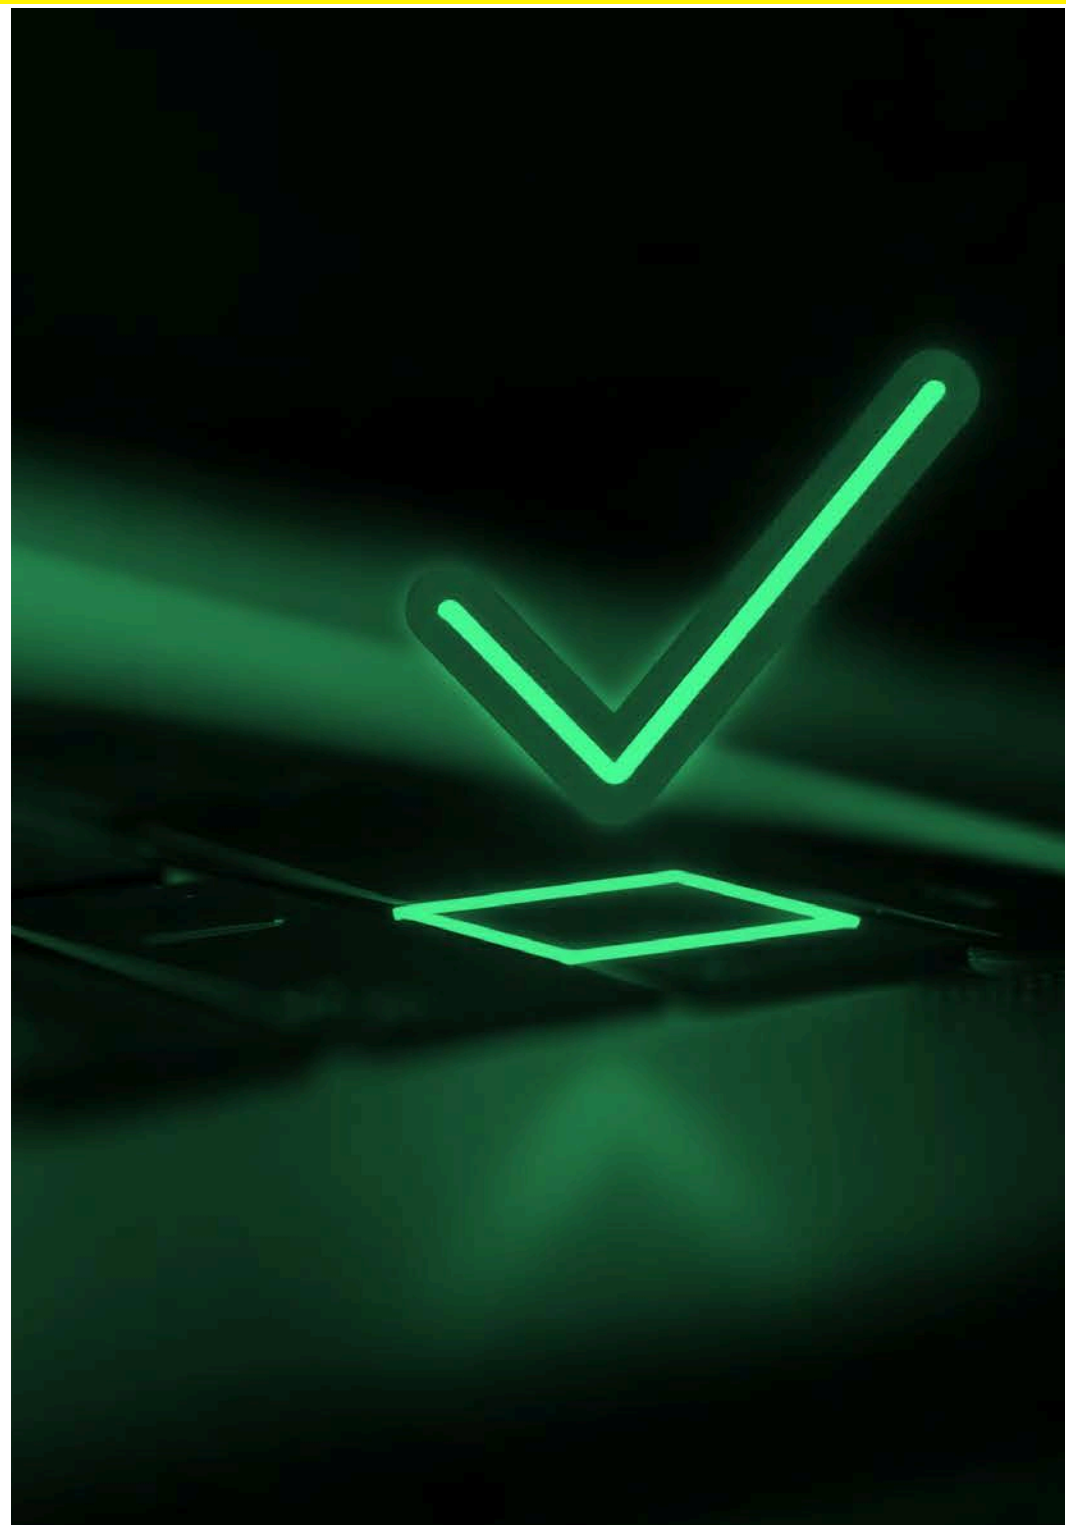

Student Vote Newfoundland and Labrador 2025 was successfully delivered, well received by educators and students, and demonstrated measurable outcomes in civic learning and engagement for youth. The program is an effective tool for fostering democratic awareness and participation among young people in Newfoundland and Labrador.

Elections NL plans to work with CIVIX in future elections to support the Student Vote program. A full report about Student Vote Newfoundland and Labrador 2025 can be viewed at elections.gov.nl.ca.

TECHNOLOGY AT THE POLLS

In response to wildfires in Conception Bay North, the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer implemented a modified voting plan to ensure that electors displaced by wildfires were still able to exercise their right to vote in the General Election.

Prior to the election, the Chief Electoral Officer and senior members of Elections NL met with various groups including the on-site incident command team and the Provincial Emergency Operations Command to determine the best approach to provide services to electors and first responders in the area. In addition, senior Elections NL staff met with counterparts from Elections Alberta to discuss their operational response to wildfires during their most recent provincial general election.

The modified voting plan was designed to maintain accessibility, integrity, and voter confidence while responding to rapidly changing circumstances.

As part of this response, Elections NL determined that electors from the communities most severely affected by the wildfires were displaced to various communities throughout the province. While early voting opportunities including Advance Voting and Special Ballot voting were readily available alternatives to affected electors, displaced electors needed flexibility to be able to cast their vote on polling day.

To provide a convenient service option for those affected electors, electoral technology was deployed at four designated polling locations to allow displaced electors to vote at any of the four locations most convenient to them, rather than restricting displaced electors to their assigned polling location. Additional election officials were hired and trained, and laptops equipped with the VoterView electoral management system were deployed to each of the four voting locations to administer this specialized voting option for affected electors on polling day.

On polling day, October 14, 2025, eligible electors from the affected polling divisions were permitted to vote at any of the following locations:

- Ronayne Law Office, Carbonear
- Ronnie Johnson Community Centre, Western Bay
- John Hoskins Community Centre, Old Perlican
- Elections Newfoundland and Labrador Headquarters, St. John's

To safeguard against duplicate voting, all polling locations were networked using the election management system, and the system functioned as an electronic poll book. Once an elector voted, their status was immediately updated and shared across all active terminals, allowing election officials to identify and prevent any attempt to cast a duplicate ballot at another location. While this safeguard was in place throughout the day, no instances of attempted duplicate voting were observed by election officials.

In total, 320 electors used these adapted voting procedures on polling day. The majority voted at the Ronnie Johnson Community Centre; however, the availability of multiple polling locations provided displaced electors with flexible voting options during a period of heightened disruption.

Notably, this is the first time that electoral technology has been used in a polling station during a Provincial General Election, particularly on Polling Day, allowing electors to vote at multiple locations. Elections NL had previously piloted this technology on Advance Polling Day during the Conception Bay East-Bell Island, Fogo Island-Cape Freels, and Baie Verte – Green Bay by-elections in 2024.

INCIDENT RESPONSE PROTOCOLS

As part of Elections NL's readiness activities, the office engaged with electoral stakeholders and created working groups with various security and incident response agencies to ensure appropriate plans were in place, and appropriate networks were maintained for timely response to various incidents including security, infrastructure, weather, and technology. This formal incident response protocol was designed to ensure the safety and security of election officials, electors, and stakeholders throughout the election period, while maintaining the ability to deliver electoral services in the event of external disruptions. Elections NL established working groups and communication channels with the Royal Newfoundland Constabulary (RNC), the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP), and the Provincial Emergency Operations Command to ensure rapid coordination and response should any security-related situations arise.

For the 2025 Provincial General Election, Elections NL deployed its largest technological footprint to deliver services to electors. Interconnected systems, communication networks, and equipment were used in all electoral offices throughout the province, via online portals, and at select polling locations to support electoral operations and the various services available throughout the election. To protect the integrity of the electoral process and safeguard the security and privacy of elector information, comprehensive security controls were implemented. In support of the increased technology, staff from the Office of the Chief Information Officer (OCIO) and the Canadian Centre for Cyber Security (CCCS), provided enhanced monitoring and threat scanning throughout the election. Additional measures were taken on polling day to ensure that there were no disruptions to reporting the tally of votes for candidates as results were being entered by election officials.

In addition to the monitoring from the OCIO and CCCS, security sensors were installed on more than 300 laptops issued to headquarters and district office staff to ensure secure device authentication and the protection of sensitive information.

Cybersecurity awareness training was also provided to all headquarters staff, along with ongoing simulated phishing exercises throughout the election to ensure that staff were vigilant in the protection of election equipment, systems, and data.

LETTER OF CONFIRMATION OF RESIDENCE

During the 2025 General Election, Elections NL introduced the Letter of Confirmation of Residence (Appendix C) as an accessibility measure to support eligible electors experiencing housing insecurity. This initiative addressed a longstanding barrier to participation in the electoral process—access to acceptable proof of address—while maintaining the integrity and security of voter registration procedures.

Under existing electoral requirements, electors must provide proof of identity and residence to register and vote. For unhoused individuals, or those living in temporary or transitional housing such as shelters, meeting traditional proof of address requirements can be difficult or impossible. The Letter of Confirmation of Residence was developed to provide a practical and legally compliant solution to this challenge.

The letter allows an elector to use a signed confirmation from a shelter administrator as proof of residence when accompanied by a second piece of accepted identification bearing the elector's name.

The form confirms that the individual either resides at or receives services from a recognized shelter or service provider. To safeguard against misuse, the letter is only valid when completed and signed by an authorized shelter administrator, including their name, title, contact information, and the date of signature.

The letter also includes a reminder of the offence provisions under the Elections Act, 1991 related to false registration, reinforcing the seriousness and integrity of the process.

By introducing this letter, Elections NL enabled unhoused electors to register and vote in provincial elections without being excluded due to the lack of conventional address documentation. The measure reflects Elections NL's commitment to voter accessibility, equity, and inclusion, while ensuring that appropriate controls remain in place to protect the accuracy of the Voters List.

The Letter of Confirmation of Residence complements other accessibility initiatives implemented during the election and demonstrated Elections NL's ability to adapt policies and procedures to meet the needs of vulnerable populations. Its successful introduction during the 2025 General Election established a practical model for supporting the voting rights of unhoused individuals in future electoral events.

TRAINING

Following the last general election, training was identified as a key area for improvement. Election officials reported that training materials and manuals were outdated, and the reliance on in-person delivery methods limited flexibility and created challenges in recruiting, onboarding, and preparing staff in a timely manner. In response, Elections NL undertook a comprehensive review of its training program to modernize training content, improve consistency, and enhance organizational readiness.

In the years leading up to the 2025 General Election, Elections NL implemented a continuous training program designed to ensure all election staff were prepared well in advance of the writ period. Training sessions were delivered throughout fall 2024, winter 2025, spring 2025, and summer 2025 for Returning Officers, Election Clerks, Special Ballot Officers, and headquarters staff. This phased approach reinforced key concepts, provided opportunities to address operational changes, and ensured election officials remained current on procedures and technology.

A significant effort was made to refresh and streamline training materials, forms, and standard operating procedures. All training resources were updated to reflect current processes, legislative requirements, and the latest election technologies. Materials were redesigned to support multiple learning styles, incorporating visual, auditory, and hands-on learning elements to improve comprehension and retention among participants.

Through ongoing orientation sessions, modernized materials, flexible delivery methods, and targeted regional training, Elections NL established a more resilient and adaptable training framework capable of responding to staffing challenges and supporting effective election readiness throughout the province.

Recognizing the need for greater flexibility, Elections NL adopted a blended approach to training delivery, utilizing both in-person and virtual sessions. This approach increased accessibility, reduced travel requirements, and provided greater flexibility for election officials in geographically dispersed areas of the province. Flexible training modules were also developed to support rapid onboarding, contingency planning, and emergency situations where traditional training delivery might not be feasible.

To address the unique logistical challenges associated with training staff in remote regions, Elections NL conducted training sessions in Labrador during spring 2025. Rather than requiring election officials to travel significant distances, Elections NL staff travelled to Labrador and delivered training locally, improving participation and ensuring election workers in the region received the same level of preparation and support as their counterparts elsewhere in the province.

The enhanced training program strengthened organizational readiness and reduced operational risk by ensuring election officials were consistently trained, informed, and prepared to administer election activities.

METHODS OF VOTING

SPECIAL BALLOT VOTING

Special Ballot voting offers convenient and accessible early voting options, which are available to every eligible elector in Newfoundland and Labrador, as well as those eligible electors who are out of province during the election.

SPECIAL BALLOT VOTES

2021 voting was primarily Special Ballot due to COVID-19 protocols.*

Electors could apply online for a Special Ballot voting kit between September 14 and October 4. Electors could also vote in person by Special Ballot at Elections NL offices between September 24 to October 7. In total, 20,588 Special Ballot votes were cast.

Vote-by-mail: Electors can request a vote-by-mail Special Ballot kit delivered to the address of their choice. Completed kits can be returned via mail, courier service, or in-person to any Elections NL office. Electors may apply for a Special Ballot vote-by-mail kit as soon as an election is called, but in accordance with the Elections Act, 1991, a Special Ballot vote-by-mail kit may not be sent to an elector until nominations are closed.

In-person: Electors can vote in-person by Special Ballot for their home district at any of Elections NL's 77 offices throughout the province. In-person Special Ballot voting begins the day after nomination day and runs for about two weeks. During the election, offices were open daily, including hours on weekends and certain weekday evenings.

Since 2015, the number of electors choosing to vote by Special Ballot has more than doubled. This increase was observed even with a labour disruption and suspension of mail services from Canada Post during the 2025 provincial General Election. Elections NL anticipates that the volume of Special Ballot voting will continue to grow in future elections and is actively planning for the increased resources required to administer this voting service.

In-home: Electors with limited mobility may request an appointment for an in-home visit to vote by Special Ballot. Elections NL staff will deliver and administer a Special Ballot Vote at the elector's request.

Personal Care Home and Hospital Voting: Election officials provide voting services in personal care homes and hospitals. During the 2025 General Election, 129 personal care facilities and 33 hospitals throughout the province availed of this convenient Special Ballot voting service.

Voting at correctional institutions was administered through Special Ballot voting.

Special Ballots declaration envelopes were redesigned for 2025, as a result of issues identified in previous elections. In 2021, 1% of Special Ballots were rejected because the declaration envelope was not completed properly. In the first year using the new envelopes, the number of rejected ballots due to an improperly completed declaration envelope decreased to 20, or .09%.

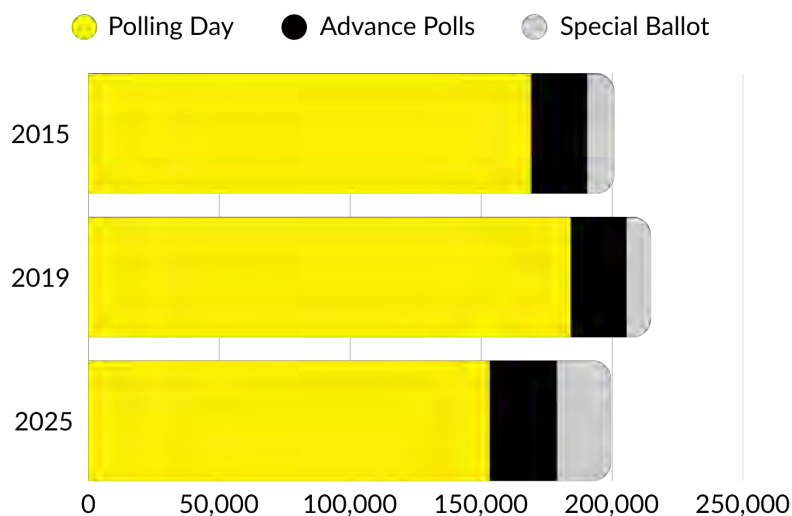

ADVANCE POLL

Advance Voting allows electors to cast their vote in-person up to seven days before polling day at the most convenient polling location in their electoral district.

Advance Voting was held on October 7 from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. at 186 polling locations throughout the province and was used by 25,758 electors to cast their vote. This was an increase of 21% over 2019 when 21,291 votes were cast on Advance Polling Day. Elections NL anticipates that the volume of Advance Voting will continue to grow in future elections and is actively planning for the increased resources required to administer this service.

Overall, early voting opportunities such as Advance Voting and Special Ballot voting now represent 23% of all votes cast. This is an increase from 13% of votes cast in 2019 and demonstrates electors' increased preference for early voting opportunities during an election. As part of the planning for an election, these trends towards early voting opportunities guide Elections NL in terms of planning for resources and locations to ensure that electoral services provided match the services electors expect in an election.

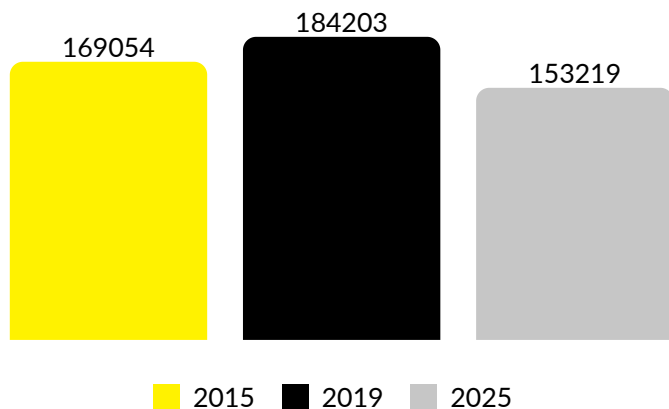

VOTING METHOD

ELECTION DAY

Polling Day took place at 1,439 polls on October 14 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Polling day continues to be the most popular choice for voters, with 153,221 votes cast.

POLLING DAY TURNOUT

OFFICIAL LIST OF ELECTORS

The Final List of Electors for the 2025 General Election was certified on October 9, 2025. The list contained 381,818 total eligible electors from all 40 electoral districts on Polling Day. The number of eligible electors on the Voters List changes through the election as individuals are added through registration, updated based on name or addresses data, or removed. The last day to register to be on the Voters List was September 30, 2025.

In accordance with legislation, two months following the General Election, oaths of electors completed at the polls may be used to update the Voters List for future electors. Common oaths the electors must complete are for addition to the Voters List, or updates to the name and/or address of electors who are already on the list.

Between January 13 and May 26, 2026, the Elections NL Voter Registry team reviewed and processed 41,750 oath forms from the 2025 provincial General Election, representing over 10 per cent of registered electors. Updates were made to the information of 23,495 individuals, and 14,156 electors were added.

*2021 voting was primarily Special Ballot due to COVID-19 protocols.

OFFICIAL ELECTION RESULTS

The official addition of the votes, held three days after the election, is a legislative procedure that the Returning Officer for each district oversees. During the official addition, the official documents on which the election results were recorded at the polls on election night are removed from each ballot box and are re-calculated to confirm the official election results.

The official addition of the votes was held in all 40 districts on October 17, 2025, and confirmed the preliminary results reported on election night.

Three applications for a judicial recount were made following the election in the districts of Topsail – Paradise, Lewisporte – Twillingate, and Placentia West – Bellevue.

Premier Tony Wakeham and all Members from non-contested districts were sworn in on October 29, 2025. MHAs Jeffery Dwyer and Mark Butt were sworn in on November 18, 2025, and Paul Dinn was sworn in on November 25, 2025, following the judicial recount proceedings.

ISSUES, CHALLENGES AND RESPONSES

CONCEPTION BAY NORTH FIRES

In August 2025, numerous communities were under alerts or evacuated as crews battled multiple forest fires throughout Newfoundland and Labrador.

While the wildfires throughout the province had diminished before the election began on September 15, 2026, there remained many electors from the Conception Bay North area that were still temporarily or permanently displaced to temporary shelters, lodging, and throughout the province because of the fires.

In response, the Chief Electoral Officer, along with senior members of Elections NL's operations team visited the area and met with the on-site first responders and incident command team, local election officials, and the Provincial Emergency Operations Command to gain an understanding of the services that could be provided given the ongoing situation.

In addition, senior Elections NL staff met with counterparts from Elections Alberta to discuss their operational response to wildfires during their most recent provincial general election.

From these observations on the ground and from experienced colleagues, Elections NL developed a comprehensive plan to ensure displaced electors, first responders and volunteers would have flexible and convenient opportunities to vote throughout the election.

Voting Information for Individuals Displaced by Conception Bay North Wildfires

All eligible voters impacted by the Conception Bay North wildfires can continue to cast their ballot in the Carbonear-Trinity-Bay De Verde district, even if they have been displaced from their permanent residence.

Special Ballot Voting was available to displaced electors at any of the 77 Elections NL offices throughout the province. In addition, a dedicated Special Ballot Voting area was set up at the Salem Centre where displaced residents and first responders were located.

On Advance Polling Day, electors from the Carbonear – Trinity – Bay de Verde electoral district could vote at any advance poll location in the Carbonear - Trinity - Bay de Verde district. The placement of these polls provided coverage of both the northern portion of the electoral district, as well as the urban area near Carbonear.

To ensure that displaced electors would have a nearby polling location on polling day, the Chief Electoral Officer applied provision 10.1 of the Elections Act, 1991, to adapt voting procedures for certain electors in the Carbonear – Trinity – Bay de Verde electoral district and allow those electors to vote at any of the four designated voting locations. These locations were chosen to provide coverage of the electoral district, as well as the St. John's area, where it had been reported that many of the displaced electors had temporarily relocated.

Overall, the successful deployment of this contingency plan demonstrated Elections NL's ability to respond effectively to emergency situations, maintain the integrity of the electoral process, and ensure continued voter access under challenging circumstances.

MAIL SERVICE DISRUPTION

Elections Newfoundland and Labrador uses Canada Post as the primary mail service provider for delivery of election materials including Voter Information Cards and Vote-by-Mail Special Ballot kits within the province and across Canada. On the evening of September 26, 2025, a sudden national labour disruption at Canada Post resulted in the immediate suspension of all mail services. At that time, approximately 120 Vote-by-Mail Special Ballot kits were already in transit to electors within the mail system, and an additional 1,500 approved Special Ballot kits were prepared for distribution but had not yet been mailed.

Under sections 86.3(3) and 86.3(4) of the Elections Act, 1991, once an elector's application to vote by Special Ballot has been approved and a Special Ballot kit is issued, the elector is deemed to have voted by Special Ballot and may not vote by any other method. As a result, electors whose ballots were delayed by the postal disruption were legislatively prevented from voting in any other manner, despite circumstances beyond their control.

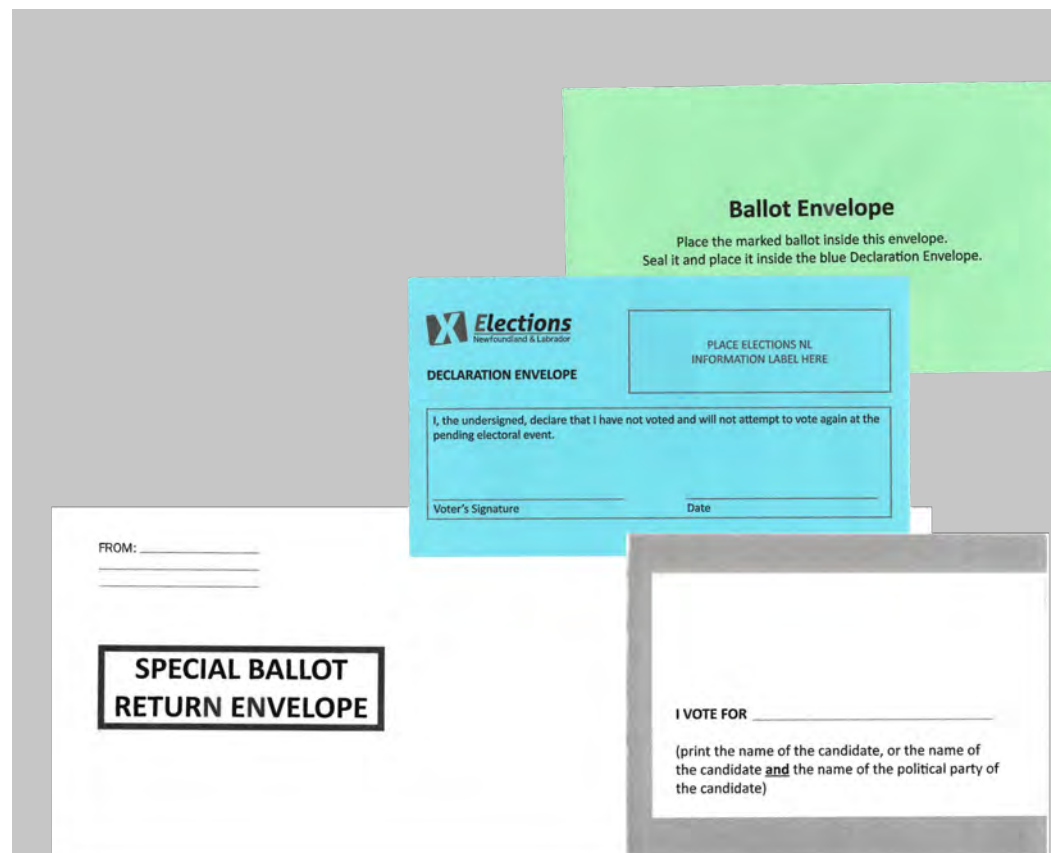

Given this unusual situation, whereby electors' votes were effectively trapped within a suspended mail service, the Chief Electoral Officer exercised authority under section 10(1) of the Act to adapt the Special Ballot provisions to reflect the necessity of the situation.

For the approximately 120 electors whose ballots were trapped in the mail system, approved Vote-by-Mail Special Ballot applications were cancelled, allowing those electors to vote in person or request a replacement ballot delivered by courier or messenger. The original ballots were deemed void.

A similar accommodation was extended to the additional 1,500 electors whose Special Ballot applications had been approved but not yet mailed at the time of the disruption. These electors were permitted, upon request, to cancel their Vote-by-Mail application and vote in person instead. Elections NL staff contacted each elector directly to confirm their preferred voting method. Where no response was received by September 30, 2025, ballots were delivered directly using courier or messenger services.

To support these adaptations, Elections NL expanded courier delivery, deployed election officials to deliver ballots where necessary, increased call-centre capacity, enhanced online voter information (including digital Voter Information Cards), and extended in-person early voting hours. The Election Management System monitored both in-person and Special Ballot voting activity to prevent duplicate voting, and any duplicate ballots were rejected during adjudication.

Throughout the election, 20,588 Special Ballot applications were approved, and 20,130 Special Ballots were successfully adjudicated and counted, representing a 98.2% return rate. This exceptionally high return rate would not have been achievable without the legislative adaptations and operational measures implemented in response to the Canada Post labour disruption, ensuring voter access while safeguarding the integrity of the electoral process.

VOTER INFORMATION CARDS

Due to the labour disruption and cessation of mail services from Canada Post on September 26, 2025, Voter Information Cards could not be distributed to electors.

A Voter Information Card, often referred to as a VIC card, is normally sent to registered electors to advise them of where their polling places are located for Advance and Polling Day, along with contact information for their electoral district Returning Office. A Voter Information Card is only for informational purposes and is not a form of identification.

At the onset of the labour disruption, Elections NL met with representatives from the OCIO and the third party vendor providing call centre support to enact the contingency plan to ensure appropriate resources and additional capacity was available to support increased activity on the Elections NL website, as well as ensuring that the call centre could scale up their resources for an influx of calls. Prior to the election, senior members of Elections NL met with counterparts from Elections Nova Scotia to share information about best practices for addressing a postal strike and implement best practices from their recent experience.

To ensure that electors could still obtain information about where they could vote, Elections NL increased advertising and social media posts to direct electors to the Elections

NL website and call centre. The Elections NL website contained information such as an online tool for electors “Where Do I Vote” that would identify a polling location based on an elector’s address, along with other information such as the Grant of Poll and polling maps. The “Where Do I Vote” tool was accessed over 135,000 times by electors in the days leading up to Advance and Polling Day. In addition, Elections NL had a dedicated call centre operating throughout the election that could respond to questions from electors, including where they could vote or how they could contact their nearest electoral office. This call centre received 5,404 calls during the election, with 1,156 of those calls on Polling Day.

In addition to the website and call centre, Elections NL also provided electors an opportunity to obtain a ‘digital Voter Identification Card’ which could be downloaded by an elector from the Elections NL website and used in place of a printed Voter Information Card. Unfortunately, the service was not widely used as it was not fully implemented until shortly before Polling Day.

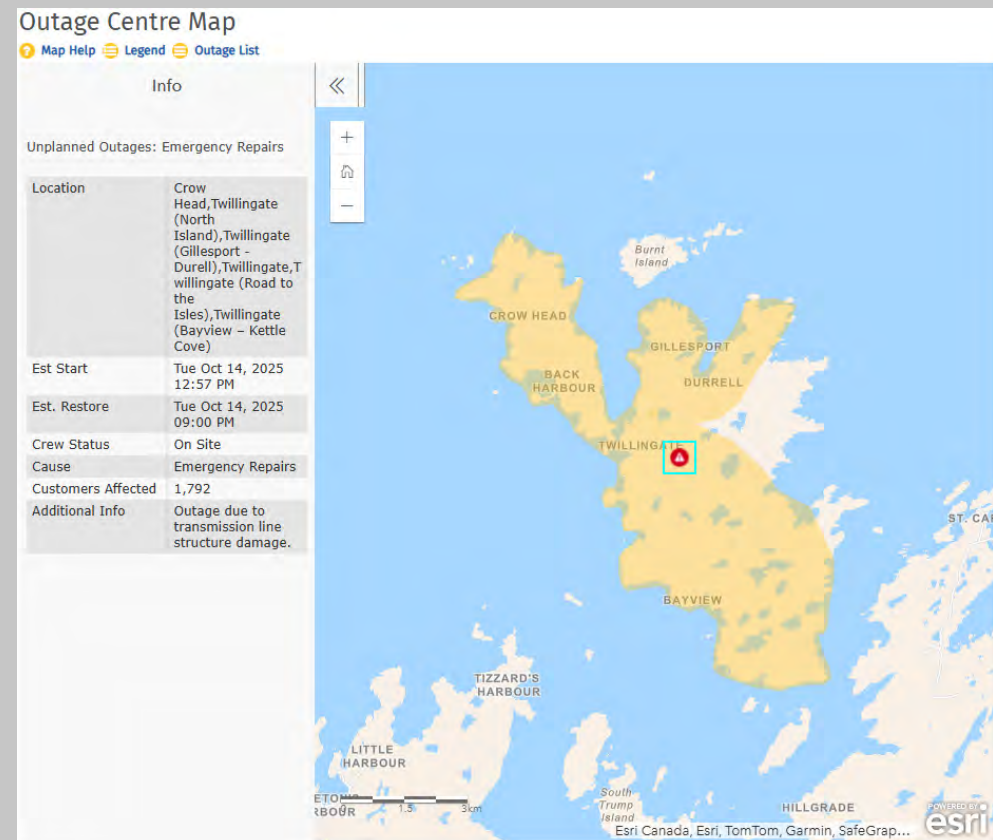

Going forward, Elections NL plans to expand the use of these services and ensure that electors are aware of the convenient options available to obtain information in determining where, when, and by what method electors can vote.

POWER OUTAGES

On Polling Day, unplanned power outages began at 12:57 p.m. in the Lewisporte-Twillingate electoral district. Polls 1-8 were impacted, specifically in the communities of Crow Head and Twillingate (impacted areas in yellow on map, to right), There was no disruption to voting, and Election Officials were able to continue providing electoral services to electors using battery powered technology, natural light and flashlights while the power was off.

Elections NL remained in ongoing communication with Newfoundland Power and the Returning Officer for Lewisporte – Twillingate throughout the duration of the power outage to stay informed of developments and to ensure that voting operations continued without interruption.

Power was anticipated to be restored around 9 p.m., and Elections NL had dispatched lighting equipment, generators, and supplies to ensure electors could continue to vote into the evening. Power was restored to all locations at approximately 6 p.m. and voting continued uninterrupted for the remainder of polling day.

JUDICIAL RECOUNT

On October 30, 2026, applications for judicial recounts were submitted to the Newfoundland and Labrador Supreme Court by the Liberal Party candidates in the electoral districts of Placentia West - Bellevue, Topsail - Paradise, and Lewisporte - Twillingate. In accordance with the Elections Act, 1991, an automatic recount is triggered only when the margin between the leading candidates is 10 votes or fewer. In each of these electoral districts the margins ranged from 18 to 102 votes, therefore an application for recount must satisfy a judge that there are grounds to grant a recount.

For the electoral districts of Placentia West – Bellevue and Lewisporte – Twillingate, the judge determined that there were no grounds to grant a recount of ballots. A judicial recount was granted in the Topsail-Paradise district following an allegation by a scrutineer that certain ballots had been accepted at one polling station and rejected at another. These allegations were subsequently determined to be unfounded. The judicial recount determined that at the polling location where the scrutineer was stationed, there were no inconsistencies in ballots that were accepted or rejected. The recount did identify a miscount of ballots between two candidates, however there was ultimately no change to the officially elected candidate, and the recount confirmed that all counting procedures were conducted in accordance with the Elections Act, 1991 upholding the accuracy, integrity, and transparency of the electoral process.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS

Municipal elections throughout Newfoundland and Labrador were scheduled to take place on October 2, 2025. Various voting options were available based on decisions made by each municipality. The City of St. John's election was to be conducted entirely by mail. However, due to the Canada Post labour disruption, some municipalities were required to change voting methods for electors, notably the City of St. John's postponed its municipal election until October 8 to ensure electors had a reasonable opportunity to receive and / or return their ballots.

The overlap of municipal elections with the provincial general election resulted in a heightened level of elector confusion. Elections NL offices and call centre staff observed a significant number of inquiries related to voter registration, polling locations, voting methods, and candidate information, with electors frequently uncertain as to which election they were contacting Elections NL about. The simultaneous administration of elections conducted under different legislative frameworks and voting models—mail-in municipal voting and in-person and Special Ballot provincial voting—contributed to this confusion.

Looking ahead, this challenge is expected to persist. Municipal, federal, and provincial elections are all projected to occur during the fall of 2029, increasing the likelihood of overlapping election periods and continued public uncertainty. This underscores the importance of proactive coordination, clear public communications and stakeholder collaboration in future election planning to minimize elector confusion and maintain confidence in the electoral process.

Elections NL has already engaged the Department of Municipal Affairs and Community Engagement to begin collaborating on supporting municipal electoral operations through shared logistics, material purchasing, resources, and training materials. In advance of the next provincial General Election a working group is planned to address communication strategies and messaging to mitigate voter confusion around electoral processes, registration, and voting opportunities between the two levels of elections scheduled for the fall of 2029.

ON-CAMPUS VOTING

To improve accessibility for post-secondary students and faculty, Elections Newfoundland and Labrador operated a dedicated Special Ballot Office on the Memorial University of Newfoundland (MUN) St. John's campus during the 2025 General Election. Elections NL rented the same office space that had been successfully utilized during the federal election, providing a familiar and centrally located voting location within the University Centre. Student employees were recruited and trained to staff the office, helping create a convenient and accessible voting experience for the campus community.

A comprehensive outreach and awareness campaign was undertaken to promote the service. Advertising included distribution through Newsline, campus-wide poster campaigns, strategically placed signage throughout university facilities, and promotional messaging on student radio. These efforts were intended to ensure students and faculty were aware of the location, operating hours, and availability of on-campus voting.

The office operated throughout the entire Special Ballot voting period, opening on Wednesday, September 24, 2025, and remaining available until 6:00 p.m. on Tuesday, October 7, 2025. By providing two full weeks of on-campus voting, Elections NL offered students greater flexibility and convenience to cast their ballots without needing to travel to another election office.

During the voting period, 110 electors cast their ballots at the MUN Special Ballot Office. While turnout was modest, the initiative provided an additional voting option for students, faculty, and staff and demonstrated Elections NL's commitment to reducing barriers to participation and expanding voter accessibility.

Elections NL also explored opportunities to establish similar on-campus voting locations at other post-secondary institutions throughout the province. However, despite efforts to secure suitable space, Elections NL was unable to obtain accommodations due to institutional security requirements and facility restrictions. As a result, the MUN St. John's campus remained the only location where a dedicated on-campus voting office could be operated during the election period.

ELECTION OFFICIALS

A total of 4,392 election officials were employed to support the administration of the 2025 general election. These officials included district office staff—such as Returning Officers, Election Clerks, Election Assistants, and Special Ballot Officers—as well as polling officials, including Deputy Returning Officers, Poll Clerks, Supervisors, Registration Clerks, Door Attendants, Parking Attendants, Messengers, and Witnesses. A list of 2025 District Election Officials can be found in Appendix D.

Additional temporary staff were also engaged at headquarters, including Returning Office Coordinators, Special Ballot Office Coordinators, outbound call centre staff, finance, and warehouse personnel.

POLLING DIVISIONS AND BOUNDARY DESCRIPTIONS

Newfoundland and Labrador is divided into 40 electoral districts, as established by the Newfoundland and Labrador Electoral Districts Boundaries Commission. The district boundaries were last updated in June 2015. In accordance with legislated requirements, the independent Electoral Boundaries Commission is mandated to review the provincial electoral boundaries and submit a report with recommendations every 10 calendar years. The next boundary redistribution is scheduled to occur in 2026

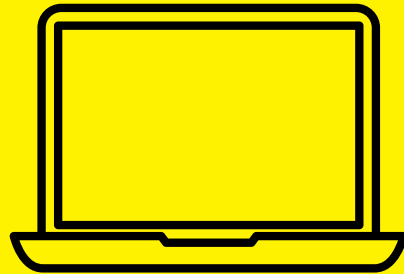

For the 2025 General Election, a total of 1,665 polling locations were established throughout the province. This included 186 advance polling stations, and 1,439 ordinary polling stations. Each electoral district also has a poll assigned for Special Ballot votes for the district, however Special Ballot voting is held at all district offices, and in over 129 personal care homes and 33 hospitals during a general election.

A comprehensive list of polling divisions and their corresponding boundary descriptions is provided in Appendix E of this report. Maps illustrating each electoral district and the associated polling division boundaries are also included in Appendix E.

To further support elector inquiries, Elections NL contracted the Telelink Call Centre to provide voter information and assistance. Telelink handled approximately 5,404 calls over the election period, including 1,156 calls on polling day, responding to common inquiries such as where to vote, how to register, and how to work at the election.

In advance of the election, the Elections NL website was redesigned with a focus on enhancing the user experience. The updated site prioritized clear answers to frequently asked questions, enabled online Special Ballot applications, and online registration. During the election period, approximately 135,000 users accessed the "Where Do I Vote?" portal.

The website served as a consistently updated and reliable source of information, supporting the integrity, accuracy, and transparency of the electoral process.

CONCLUDING OBSERVATIONS OF THE CHIEF ELECTORAL OFFICER

The 2025 General Election marked a significant milestone in the continued modernization of electoral administration in Newfoundland and Labrador. Building on lessons learned from recent by-elections, Elections Newfoundland and Labrador successfully utilized technology across election operations to enhance accessibility for voters, improve administrative efficiency, and strengthen the integrity of the electoral process.

The use of technology throughout the election allowed electors to register, update, and verify their information more efficiently while providing election officials with tools to streamline administrative processes and reduce duplication of paperwork. These improvements supported a more accessible and convenient voting experience for electors and enhanced the ability of Elections NL to efficiently manage election operations across all electoral districts in a consistent and reliable manner.

The 2025 General Election also demonstrated the value of sustained investment in technology, operational planning, and contingency preparedness. Elections are complex undertakings that must be delivered within fixed legislative timelines and often under rapidly changing circumstances. Through comprehensive planning, testing, and training, Elections NL was able to respond effectively to operational challenges as they arose while continuing to provide uninterrupted service to electors throughout the election period.

While the election was successfully administered, the experience highlighted several areas where legislative and administrative modernization would further improve the delivery of electoral services. The existing framework established by the Elections Act, 1991 remains highly prescriptive and was developed primarily around paper-based processes and traditional election administration models. Although Elections NL successfully incorporated technology to support election operations within the current legislative framework, opportunities exist to better align electoral legislation with modern service delivery expectations and contemporary election administration practices.

The increasing demand from electors for flexibility, accessibility, and convenience requires electoral services that can adapt to changing voting behaviours while continuing to protect the integrity and security of the vote. The successful use of technology during the 2025 General Election demonstrated that Elections NL has the operational capacity to support more modern electoral services and administrative processes. However, broader implementation of these services will require legislative authorities that accommodate both technological innovation and evolving voter expectations.

Part Two of this report will examine the administration of the 2025 General Election in greater detail and present recommendations for electoral modernization based on the operational experiences and challenges encountered throughout the event. These recommendations will focus on opportunities to improve election administration, enhance voter service, increase operational efficiency, and ensure that Newfoundland and Labrador's electoral framework remains responsive to the needs of electors.

The successful delivery of the 2025 General Election demonstrates that Elections Newfoundland and Labrador is prepared to meet the demands of large-scale electoral events while maintaining the highest standards of integrity, transparency, and impartiality. As expectations continue to evolve, Elections NL remains committed to pursuing improvements that strengthen electoral services and ensure that all eligible electors can participate in the democratic process in a manner that is accessible, secure, and convenient.
